

The CoHSS Lecture Series presents faculty and student research from the academic departments and programs within the college in monthly events throughout the academic year, as well as guest lectures by invited speakers. The goal of the series is to support a research culture in CoHSS and to increase community engagement in CoHSS academic work. Examples of topics for presentation are experiential learning projects completed with community organizations, community leaders and faculty presenting on an area of shared interest, creative work of interest to the local community, and academic-style conference presentations tailored for the VSU and local community. All presentations are open to the full VSU community and the public.

Department heads and faculty work with their departmental representative on the committee in selecting work that meets at least one of the following criteria:

1. The work has relevance to the local community
2. The work is collaborative (including collaborations with faculty and staff within and across departments, with graduate or undergraduate students, or with community organizations and leaders)
3. The work will be presented in an engaging manner, accessible to the public as well as faculty and students

_____ Rev. Susan Gage (St. Barnabas Episcopal Church) interviewed by A.J. Ramirez (WGST), "A Woman, a Lesbian, and a Priest Walked into the Church... and We're All the Same Person?"

'A Woman, a Lesbian and a Priest' coming to VSU | News | valdostadailytimes.com

_____ "Safer Biking and Walking in the Southern Georgia Region: Two VSU-SGRC Partnership Projects," with students Nikki Ballard, Erica Glover, Autmr(Vm)5an2(, Mmr(V)7A-3(ree(n)]TJETQq0.00000912 0 612 92 reWñBT/F2 12